FRED PUTNEY,

SCHOOL REPORT.

DIS. NO. 1.

In the three terms of this school, Miss Marietta Ewins teacher, fair progress was made in all branches attended to.

The greatest improvement, was noticed in reading; a faulty sing-song habit of some of the scholars, being in a large measure overcome. At one visit of the committee we noticed one of the greatest hindrances to a successful school, viz: the habitual, expectant waiting of scholars for assistance from the teacher, in answering questions. At close of school we were glad to find that this fault had been remedied.

DIS. NO. 2.

The three terms of this school were in charge of Miss Mira W. Morgan, a teacher of considerable experience.

This was the largest school in town, and in some respects, one of the most successful. The teacher was energetic, competent and faithful, and the scholars generally orderly and diligent.

Fair improvement in all branches. There was an interested, and interesting class in Physiology.

DIS. NO. 3.

This school having been brought to a close, after three weeks, by the lamentably sad and sudden death of its accomplished, and dearly beloved teacher, Miss Maria P. Osgood, the services of Miss Martha M. Clark were procured.

In this, her first school, Miss Clark evinced an ease and aptness which, we predict, will gain for her a high position as teacher, should she pursue the vocation. All did well.

In the case of one little fellow of five years, we were led to wonder, that he had learned so many useful things in one short term.

DIS. NO. 4.

The summer term was successfully taught by Miss Lucy A. Young. The confidence and respect of the scholars were cheerfully accorded the teacher, and she labored assiduously in their interest.

While commendable progress was made in all branches, the younger members in reading, spelling, arithmetic and geography, were very proficient.

Fall and winter of 16 weeks, in charge of Mr. Clarence B. Cheney, who was, evidently, the right man in the right place.

This school is composed largely of highly intelligent scholars, needing no urging, but simply proper guidance.

In all branches, including physiology and book keeping, the progress and proficiency were commendable.

In scholarship and deportment, this school ranks second to no other in town.

In fact, taken all in all, it comes as near to our ideal of a model school as we hope soon to see.

A large number of the parents and friends witnessed the closing examination exercises.

DIS. NO. 6.

The one term, of eleven weeks, was conducted by Mr. Charles H. Stanley.

This was his first school.

The teacher is a good scholar, and was conscientiously faithful in the discharge of his duties.

We think a little more energy would have added to his success, while a clearer method of imparting instruction is desirable.

This will come with experience in teaching.

That the names of no scholars of this school appear upon the "Roll of Honor," is accounted for, so the citizens informed me, by their not having been notified of the commencement of the school.

DIS. NO. 7.

The summer term of this quiet little school was well conducted by Miss Hattie D. Sargent.

The relations between scholars and teacher were very pleasant.

Progress and improvement satisfactory.

The winter term was taught by Miss Rosina E. Ogilvie, whose pains-taking efforts were highly successful.

Teacher and scholars are entitled to much commendation.

DIS. NO. 8.

The one short term in this district, taught by Miss Minnie L. Wells, in proficiency, certainly exceeded our anticipations.

We wish the bright scholars in this district could have the benefit of a better house, and longer schools.

That they fully appreciate the scanty privileges which they do enjoy is evident.

The names of all the scholars appear on the "Roll of Honor."

DIS. NO. 9.

Summer term taught by Miss Nellie G. Putman.

Though inexperienced in teaching, and quite young to assume the management of so large, and advanced a school, the teacher possessed, in a high degree, the essentials requisite to success: energy, firmness, and kindness.

The presence of quite a large number of citizens of the district, added to the interest of the closing examination, which reflected much credit on teacher and scholars.

The winter term was taught by Miss Nellie E. Wells, who enjoys the reputation of being a first class teacher.

The opening examination gave much promise of success, which the teacher reports was attained.

We visited the school on the day of its close, but on account of a severe storm, but few scholars were present.

DIS. NO. 10.

Under the management of Miss Mary J. Tyler the progress in the summer term of this school was creditable to teacher and scholars.

The teacher was mild, and the scholars seemed to appreciate her kindness, and made fair progress in all studies.

After the summer term, this district built a good school-house, to replace one which was decidedly better than several others in town, thereby displaying their ability and public spirit.

The winter term in charge of Miss Mary A. Jones, a thorough scholar and excellent teacher, was very successful.

At the closing examination it was evident that every class had received its full share of attention.

And we think that no term of school in town was better in all respects than this one.

DIS. NO. 12.

Miss Lizzie B. Andrews, who taught both terms of this school, is a thorough scholar, with a good faculty for instructing.

And the scholars, regularly attending, showed a good knowledge of all studies pursued.

The improvement in reading, spelling, and writing, deserves special mention.

Although the school appeared studious and orderly, at all times when visited by the Com., the teacher reports too low an average of conduct, on the part of some of the larger boys.

DIS. NO. 13.

Summer term taught by Miss Hattie E. Shaw. The appearance of the school at the opening examination gave evidence of fair success, which we are assured was attained.

We were unable, on account of a prior engagement, to be present at the closing examination.

Winter term, in charge of Miss Carrie H. Cooper, was highly successful.

The progress was thorough, and sufficiently rapid.

Under efficient teachers, with no abatement of interest on the part of parents, this school may soon rank as one of the best in town.

DIS. NO. 14.

At the present time, no scholars of this Union district reside in Sutton.

Both terms were in charge of Miss Carrie L. Colby.

The summer term was quite satisfactory. The teacher was deeply interested, and the scholars seemed to appreciate her efforts.

Commendable improvement was made in all branches studied.

We were not present at close of fall term.

GENERAL REMARKS.

Schools in Sutton the past year were generally successful.

In most instances, committees evidently took much pains in selecting teachers, and, when found competent, retained them through the year.

Parents and citizens co-operated with teachers and scholars, in promoting harmony, and the interests of the schools generally.

Strict equality and justice cannot always be had under our common school system. Some districts have had but from eight to eleven weeks school during the year, while others have had from twenty four to twenty seven.

From obvious reasons, in most instances the largest, and wealthiest districts, secure the services of the most competent teachers.

Some districts are furnished with beautiful school-rooms, while others, from necessity, rather than from choice, are not thus favored.

No schools in town are too large, while several are too small.

Now we submit whether it would not be better, for several of the smaller districts, with not so good school houses as they would like, to take measures to become united with larger districts, with good houses.

It is true that, in many instances, the distance to school would be increased; but would not the benefits gained from the union, outweigh this inconvenience?

Citizens of No. 1, 3, 8, and 12, please give this matter thought, before you build.
